

Bryan Cortes

Bryan Cortes is a Financial Planning Analyst at UBS Wealth Management where he is part of the Advisory Group Analytics and Planning team. He supports the senior management and field leadership of the firm with key metrics and business analytics to run over 300 branches of UBS Financial Advisors in the Americas.

Born in Los Angeles, CA., Bryan graduated Magna Cum Laude with a BS in Economics and an Accounting concentration from California Polytechnic State University. While in college, he volunteered with various different organizations and programs that focused on driving educational achievement among minority students which sparked his interest for Philanthropy and Education.

As a proud 2012 SEO Summer Career Program Alumni, Bryan has been involved with SEO as a mentor for both SEO Scholars and Career program since then. Outside of work he enjoys talking about current events, rock climbing, and running.
