

Menna Samaha

Menna is currently Director of Alternative Investments at SEO. She joined SEO Career in 2014 as an Investment Banking Program Manager and Professional Development Coach.

Her relationship with SEO began as an intern in the summers of 2005 and 2006, from which she received a full time offer with Citi Investment Banking in the Industrials Group. Following two years with Citi, she served as an Associate with KPS Capital Partners, a leading private equity firm focused on implementing turnaround strategies in underperforming businesses.

Menna graduated from Carnegie Mellon University in 2007 as an Andrew Carnegie Presidential Scholar and later received her MBA and Masters in Education from Stanford University. Continuing her passion for coaching and mentorship, Menna serves on the leadership team and as a facilitator for Stanford GSB Women's Circles, a New York based alumnae group. In addition, Menna works to expand educational opportunities for underserved children as a Revive the Dream fellow.
